More than power Trigger smart workplace experiences

Smart meeting rooms

Chargifi can be integrated with workplace management systems to act as a trigger point for smart meeting room experiences, such as easy meeting room check-in.

Effortless conference calling

Chargifi can be integrated with video conferencing hardware and software. SmartSports sync with a user's diary and start scheduled conference calls automatically.

Hot-desk management

Chargifi SmartSpots can help users locate available desks, they can then use SmartSpots to automatically check in for a session to be easily found by colleagues.

Space utilisation

Data from existing workplace software can be enriched with spot usage insights, providing visibility into how spaces can be better utilized.

“Being powered up and staying connected is invaluable for our members. Everybody relies on their devices in the office, and access to power is crucial for an efficient workplace.”

— Rory Normanton, General Manager at Breather London
